

GOODBYE CRUEL WORLD
 I played your game as long as i could, and you finally beat me.
 Yea, i know there was some good times, but i'm out of chips and i can't wait any longer for the card i need.
 You have created alot of great people and great minds.
 But some of us were just not meant for the back line.
 We sit in front with the rest of the pawns. Waiting for our demise.
 Of course, i might have been a little creative and smart.
 Sure people will miss me.
 But hey, i won't have to even worry about my dead body.
 That's someone else's problem.
 Too bad you won't hear from me.
 I'll at least know whether God is a folk tale.
 I would like to leave one piece of advise that life taught me.
 That is, you can look like a penguin.
 Act like one and hide amongst the penguins.
 But don't be surprise if you get lost in the flock.
 If you don't get lost, don't be surprised if you get stepped on.
 Well there's no use thanking you with sincerity.
 Maybe someone will understand and maybe this is my ace in the hole.
 Peace, pot, microdot and if that's not your stuff.
 Then whatever gets you there or here.
 I had dreams to change the world, but no one heard me.
 I can't figure out if i didn't speak loud enough or if everyone's deaf.
 I've finally written the last page of my biography.
 Maybe someone will cash it in and if you don't mind, could you pay off a few of my debits with the profits?
 Just remember, i wasn't a saint, nor a devil, but i was expendable.
 Don't take it personally. I didn't. Farewell life....
 My worst enemy and my best friend.
 We all die. Its just a matter of when you're ready to leave.
 If i plead insanity, do i get another chance?
 A return to life card?
 Anyway, i just committed a felony.
 I'M OUTTA HERE.
 AUDI 5000.

HEY, WHO TURNED OUT THE LIGHTS!
 ENCORE! ENCORE! I SAID ENCORE!