

*Honor and glory... Is that all you got for me?
Do you think that's worth something?
Do you think that's worth anything?
Honor and glory... That's not enough for me.
It's not worth anything
and it doesn't come for free.*

You can keep your honor. You can keep your glory.
You can keep your medals and your wartime stories.

You can keep your kind locked in a cage.

Military defiants in total rage.

Cause I lost my soul and I lost my arms.

I lost my desire and I lost my son.

I lost my fear and I lost my peace.

I lost everything that was dear to me.

*Honor and glory... Is that all you got for me?
Do you think that's worth something?
Do you think that's worth anything?
Honor and glory... It's never enough for me.
It's not worth anything
and it doesn't come for free.*

You took what I had. You took my wife.

You took my mind and you took my life.

You took my will and you took my way.

You took everything that I had to say.

I gave my life for the word,

but it brought me nothing in return.

The seasons still change and the world still burns.

Enemies still reign. Man still kills

Nothing ever changes. Nothing ever will.

*Honor and glory... Is that all you got for me?
Do you think that's worth something?
Do you think that's worth anything?
Honor and glory... Is that all you're giving me?
Do you think it will change my mind?
Do you think it will make me want to die?*

Life is too short for some and too long for others.
For the ones who feel it's short, they have done all the wrongs things and want a redo. They wasted life being busy instead of satisfied.

For the ones who feel it's too long, they can't decide what to do and stay bored. There is only one chance in life.(as far as we know) Everyone has bad memories. Some just have more than others, but's that's never a reason to succumb.

Keep trying and never care what they say.
That is the hardest part. We all have different opinions on everyone, everything and ourselves.
Be yourself, if that is unacceptable, then find another place to dwell that doesn't care.
Popularity and friends aren't everything in this world, but it doesn't hurt having them around.
